Group Volunteering 2023

About Urban Bounty

Urban Bounty is a registered charity in Richmond working to engage a resilient local food system through education, advocacy, and community-building initiatives. If you want to learn more about urban agriculture, support the work we do and get involved in your community then you have come to the right place. Keep reading for more information on our group volunteering opportunities.

Why Volunteer With Urban Bounty?

These types of volunteering opportunities allow your group to support and contribute to our work in a meaningful way. This in turn supports a stronger and more resilient community and local food system in Richmond. You can expect to:

- Participate in hands-on, team-building activities
- Spend time outside with your team in a beautiful setting
- Learn about urban agriculture and how you can support a thriving local food system
- Experience something new, make an impact and have fun!

Volunteering Overview

- Volunteering sessions are 3 hours in length
- Timing is activity dependent - generally Tuesdays, Thursdays or Saturdays during the day
- We can accommodate groups of up to 15 people
- We will accept groups smaller than 10 people, but the minimum donation remains $400 see below for more details.
- At the time of booking, please let us know the approximate number of people in your group

Donation

- Donation rate per person:
 - Adult - $40
 - Kids - $20
- Your donation goes directly to supporting the work we do
- We are unable to waive the donation requirement
- Your donation can be made by cash, card or cheque
- Sponsorship opportunities are available for groups donating $1,000 or more.
- Official tax receipts can be issued for donations over $25

Cancellation Fee

- We book groups according to specific needs and last minute cancellations make it hard for us to fulfill our obligations.
- A cancellation fee of 50% will be charged if you cancel less than 2 weeks before your scheduled volunteer date.
